

IF you've got a cold—that seems to grip you all over—there's nothing will give you more, nor quicker relief than a Turkish Bath. If you come in all stuffed up, you'll go out feeling all right.

In this Bath you have the privacy of home and the luxury of the most modern equipment—with expert attention.

Riggs-Lafayette Baths (Inc.), Riggs Building—15th and G Streets.
"Twenty-four-hour Service."

other game. The birds were plentiful, and, as Mr. Lyman remarked, if good Clarence W. Hecox and Manuel Owen spent an enjoyable time at Nanjemoy, Charles county, Md., where they in-

WM. F. EARNHART & CO.,
Tel. North 196. 1707 9 14th st. S.W.

the vicinity of Fletcher's and tried their luck for Mississippi catfish. The sportsmen had a supply of shad bait, said to be the best bait for the variety of fish they hoped to catch.

caught, but all they did was to wet their lines."

Anglers who have been on the river between Aqueduct and Chain bridges report having seen "especially large"

Mack Sparrough, "the fish were rolling about in the shallow water like 60 many hogs, while in the deep water they were near the top."
"As soon as some of the swift cur-

A story is told of the disappointment experienced by a sportsman on the Virginia side of the river near Nor-

The sportsman was in a boathouse with several companions, it is stated, and his sudden activity aroused interest.

"There's a mallard duck," he said,

The skiff was procured and away paddled the sportsman. Soon he was seen to make a stop, but instead of discharging his gun he placed it on the bottom of the skiff and returned.

FANCIERS TO HOLD BANQUET.
Local Followers of Pigeon Racing

The annual banquet of the Washington Center of the American Racing Pigeon Union is to be held tonight at Harvey's.

Combs Motor Company,
Tel. M. 8761. Vt. Ave. and H N.W.
Service Station, 1623 L St. N.W.

guests from Baltimore, Philadelphia and Los Angeles, Cal. Pigeon bands for 1916 are to be distributed at a business session, prior to the banquet. W. H. Fugitt is chairman of the banquet com-

Dertinent Comment on Happenings in Shortdom

By J. ED GRILLO.
Frank Moran's victory over Jim Coffey in New York last night

first chance against Champion Jess Willard. Just what chance Moran would have against the big champion is questionable. Willard's size, compared to that of Moran, would give the former a big ad-any effectiveness, and if Willard fought as well as he did against Johnson he ought not have much trouble disposing of Moran.

Moran has easily proved his superiority over Coffey. He has eliminates the Irish fighter from all consideration so far as the championship is concerned.

There has been such a variance in

They answered, 'Nothing.' They claim-western heavyweight, and it will be necessary for him to meet several of the title aspirants before his value can be reckoned. The record of Fulton, tacked, and it is charged that several of the wins which are scored in his favor were actually just the reverse.

You can't beat Connie Mack when it ing staff, too. He doesn't want eight or ten twirlers hanging round; he wants three or four effective men, and he's right, as he usually is."

When Joe Tinker made the announce-leader of the Mackmen has just presented the Chicago White Sox with a catcher, Jack Lapp by name. There was a time when Jack was one of the star backstops in the league. During the war with the Feds, Lapp managed look very promising, and, as he was drawing the salary of a star catcher, and the contract has another year to run, Connie slipped Lapp to Comiskey, thus saving a nice chunk of salary.

team is not adding anything to its popularity by its action in calling off the games with Connie Mack's team. The Baker regime has been a most poorly conducted administration. It seems a special effort is made to put

The Phillies, after winning a pennant for the first time in their career last year, swelled up and refused to play a protest.

No man in base ball thinks more of manager of the Cubs. Tinker played with the Cubs when the Sox, with Jones as manager, beat them in the world series of 1906. Last year Tinker's Whales and Jones' St. Louis Feds fought it out for the pennant nearly all year.

"Jones certainly is one mystery. I had some men on my team that had been on Jones' and I asked them what he did that made them such winners. There will always be a crowd on the Cubs' field next year, even if the stands are deserted.